The committee in charge is: Nan Johnston, Delia Hopkins, Helen Cousins, Ruth Bridges, Julia Higgins and Hazel Nevells.

The Ellsworth high school has issued a creditable school paper under the name of "Victory." The paper contains cuts of the editorial board, and of Roderick K. Stanley, to whom the paper is dedicated because of his help in starting the paper during the one week he was principal of the school during the present school year.

Plans are being perfected for the fourteenth annual Ellsworth reunion, which will be held this year on Friday evening, Feb. 21, at Paul Revere hall, Mechanics building, Boston. Tickets may be obtained at the store of Stetson Foster, 6 Hamilton place, Boston. Condit's orchestra will furnish music, and Westover & Foss will serve refreshments as in other years.

News has been received of the death on January 19, in a hospital in New York, of Ernest Bellatty, formerly of Ellsworth. Death resulted from injuries received a short time before on board the steamer E. C. Pope, of which he was second mate.

Mr. Bellatty was born in Ellsworth sixty-two years ago, the son of the late Capt. Alden H. and Victorine Beale Bellatty. He was a brother of the late Mrs. E. E. Wyman of this city, and was the last survivor of the family. He left Ellsworth when a young man, and had made but few visits here since, his last visit being in November last, when he spent a week here. Funeral and interment were in New York.

The United War Work Campaign certificates have been received by the local chairman, Mrs. G. N. Worden, and are ready to be given the Victory girls upon payment of their pledges. "Come on, girls! let's make Ellsworth one of the first over the top." Miss Wentworth of the high school and Miss Mullan of the grammar school will give out the certificates as soon as you pay in your money and give them your enrollment card.

The senior class of the high school gave an entertainment at the high school building last Friday evening. The program was as follows: reading, Miss Giggery; piano solo, John Mahoney; vocal duet, Catherine Austin and Madeline Sabans; reading, Dorothy Shackford; reading, Sadie Kane; vocal solo, Martha Royal; piano solo, Arthur Tower; vocal solo, Miss Sophia Walker; violin solo, Miss Utecht; vocal solo, Gertrude Flood.

Governor Milliken on Friday issued a proclamation naming Sunday, Feb. 9, as Roosevelt memorial day. Ellsworth has already made plans for the observance of the day, with a memorial service at the Unitarian church at 4 o'clock in the afternoon, with address by Rev. Ashley A. Smith of Bangor. Mr. Smith will be assisted in the service by Revs. R. B. Mathews, H. W. Conley and J. W. Tickle. There will be special music, with Miss Sophia Walker as soloist.

Two non-support cases have been heard by Judge Crabtree in the Ellsworth municipal court the past week. Alanson Jellison pleaded not guilty, but was adjudged guilty, and sentenced to pay a fine of $10, and $5 a week, to Arthur Salisbury, for the benefit of his wife, Annie Jellison, and minor child. He also paid to the county costs amounting to $10.29. Linwood F. Brailey pleaded guilty, paid costs of $22.54 to the county, $15 fine and was ordered to pay $20 a month for support of wife and five children.

CITY MEETING.

No New Business Before the Board—Rolls of Accounts.

The regular meeting of the city government was held Monday evening. Mayor Hagerthy presided. Aldermen present, Wescott, Moore (ward 2), Moore (ward 4), Small.

Rolls of accounts were passed as follows:

Roll of accounts No. 12	$1,724.29
Highway roll, Jan., 1919	$96.30
Sidewalk	44.25
Common schools	$733.80
High school	433.02
Grand total	$3,051.66

This was the final meeting of the municipal year. The board hopes to make a creditable showing for the year, in spite of the unusual demands. The board at the beginning of the year held down the appropriations, decreasing the tax rate from .029% to .025. The assessors also, in a thorough overhauling of valuations, made readjustments favoring unproductive property and widows. As it has transpired, the appropriations were not large enough to take care of the demands growing largely out of war conditions, but the tax-payers have felt the benefits of the lower tax rate. Next year's tax rate must necessarily be higher. Already the legislature is talking of appropriations that will practically double the State tax, and the county tax will also be larger.

NICOLIN.

Mrs. Leo Jordan of Bangor is here with her husband, who is working for Hillard Schoppee.

Perley Flewellyn and wife have gone to his home in Easton for two weeks. Mrs. Elmer DeWitt is substituting as teacher here while Mrs. Flewellyn is away.

Gloom has been cast over the community by the death of Delia, wife of Alvin E. Maddocks, on Friday evening, Jan. 31, in the fifty-second year of her age. Mrs. Maddocks had been in poor health nearly two years, of Bright's disease, and at the last was a great sufferer. She was devoted to her home and family, who have the sympathy of all. She leaves besides her husband, who is now very low, three children—Carl W., who is in the service and has been overseas for over a year and was unable to get home, Asenith and Guy, who are at home. One sister and brother also survive—Mrs. Jenness McGown of this place and Edward K. Leach of Bangor. The funeral was held at the church Monday afternoon, Rev. R. B. Mathews of Ellsworth officiating.

Bluehill Fair Meeting.

At the annual meeting of stockholders and directors of the Hancock County Agricultural society held in Bluehill last Saturday, the following officers were chosen for 1919:

President, A. S. Witham; vice-president, F. H. Allen; treasurer, M. R. Hinckley; secretary, N. L. Grindell; directors: E. L. Osgood, chairman; Harry Leach, W. S. Hinckley, A. K. Saunders and Maurice Leach.

It was voted to hold the annual fair Sept. 2, 3 and 4. The association plans to have a better fair than ever this year.

Stephen Berry Dead.

Stephen Berry, aged eighty-five years, the oldest secretary of any grand lodge of Masons in the country when he retired two years ago, died Saturday in Portland.

Mutual Benefit Column.

EDITED BY "AUNT MADGE."

Its Motto: "Helpful and Hopeful."

The purposes of this column are succinctly stated in the title and motto—it is for the mutual benefit, and aims to be helpful and hopeful. Being for the common good, it is for the common use—a public servant, a purveyor of information and suggestion, a medium for the interchange of ideas. In this capacity it solicits communications, and its success depends largely on the support given it in this respect. Communications must be signed, but the name of writer will not be printed except by permission. Communications will be subject to approval or rejection by the editor of the column, but none will be rejected without good reason. Address all communications to:

THE AMERICAN, Ellsworth, Me.

A PETITION.

(Westminster Gazette.)

Give me a good digestion, Lord,
And also something to digest;
But when or how that something comes,
I leave to Thee, who knowest best.

Give me a healthy body, Lord,
Give me the sense to keep it so,
Also a heart that is not bored
Whatever work I have to do.

Give me a healthy mind, good Lord,
That finds the good that dodges sight,
And, seeing sin, is not appalled
But seeks a way to put it right.

Give me a point of view, good Lord,
Let me know what is, and why,
Don't let me worry overmuch
About the thing that's known as "I."

Give me a sense of humor, Lord,
Give me the power to see a joke,
To get some happiness from life,
And pass it on to other folk.

—Sent by Ann.

To the M. B. Sisters, One and All:

I send greetings for a happy and prosperous year, and may we all escape this terrible influenza that has taken from all over our land so many good people. While the deaths of the great war have been terrible, it has not reached into so many homes as the influenza. It has taken mothers who have been needed so much, the fathers who have been the bread-winners, as well as the young who make our future citizens.

I have enjoyed S. J. Y.'s chronicles so much. I also had the privilege of enjoying the lunch hour with A. M. Y., daughter of S. J. Y., which was next to seeing her. Since leaving Bluehill I have visited many different places, and only wish I could describe some of the lovely things which I have seen. I will tell this, that another Bluehill friend and I visited Franklin Park Zoo and saw the animals and birds. We enjoyed seeing the elephants, Mollie, Wanda and Tony, they do such wonderful tricks. I wished every one of my little friends could have been with us that day, as well as the days before Christmas as I walked up Washington street, Boston. How I would liked to have had them there to see the lovely decorations.

Our winter is flying fast—such a mild one after the severe one of last year, that everyone is enjoying it. I am glad that the sisters are helping you out so nicely, Aunt Madge. I enjoy the column so much and turn to it first of all.

I extend through our column love and sympathy to all who have in any way, been touched by sadness, to all the sick and shut-ins, and to all of its readers I send best regards.

ANN.

It is a treat, indeed, to hear again from Ann, and to have a glimpse of the pleasant times she is having this winter. Sadie's letter of interest follows, as was promised last week to be continued:

Now will you tell me, do you think or believe snakes can charm? When I was young, people told me if I saw a snake to run for my life, or it would charm me. But as I grew older I grew skeptical. I have read of serpents in foreign countries, when in search of food, make some kind of a noise that will attract persons, and they will stand still. Then the snake will creep slowly toward them and inject a venom into their eyes and then they are an easy prey.

I have lived most of my life on a farm, where there are stone walls, rocks and ledges, and have seen most all kinds of snakes, but they always seemed to be in a hurry to get away. But I will relate an incident that happened in my own family, more than sixty years ago.

Near my home was an old stone wall, and beside it grew a quantity of raspberry bushes. The old settlers who had farms, as fast as they ploughed out stones, did not know what to do with them, so they enclosed their farms with them. Wire fencing has taken its place on most farms, but there are some remnants of the walls.

One day, when the fruit was ripe, I went to gather some and took my little daughter about three years old, with me, and gave her a bright, new half-pint dipper. (She is now the widow of a Civil War veteran.) The next day she wanted to go again. As it was in sight of the house, I gave her her dipper. After awhile I would call her and she would come. After that she wanted to go every day.

One day, after she had been several days, she remained longer than usual. I called to her two or three times, but she seemed reluctant to come. After she started, she walked slowly and kept looking back. As she got near the house, her grandfather met her and she told him, "Grandpa, there is my snake."

As he turned to look, there was a serpent's head above the grass, just as still, not moving at all. It was in haying time, and he had his scythe in his hand, so he ran the scythe under the snake and severed it in two. The child began to cry, and said, "O, grandpa you have hurt my snake!" I went out to see what she was crying about, and she said grandpa had hurt her snake. She was greatly distressed and cried most of the day.

As her grandfather had been at work near by, he heard her talking and laughing as she was sitting by the wall. I questioned her and she said "the snake looked in her dipper, then crawled on her bare feet, laid his head in her lap and she smoothed his head and he laughed." The next morning her grandfather went out to remove the dead serpent, and there beside it was another just like it. It started for the wall, but he caught up a big stone and disposed of that one, too. They were hideous-looking reptiles with black heads and yellow bellies. I have never seen any like them. They had heads diamond shape. They were probably a pair, and they may have been a hundred years old.

Now comes the question, did that snake charm the child? She was not afraid of him as most children are.

DOCTOR URGED AN OPERATION

Instead I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Was Cured.

Baltimore, Md.—"Nearly four years I suffered from organic troubles, nervousness and headaches and every month would have to stay in bed most of the time. Treatments would relieve me for a time but my doctor was always urging me to have an operation. My sister asked me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound before consenting to an operation. I took five bottles of it and it has completely cured me and my work is a pleasure. I tell all my friends who have any trouble of this kind what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me."—NELLIE B. BRITTINGHAM, 609 Calverton Rd., Baltimore, Md.

It is only natural for any woman to dread the thought of an operation. So many women have been restored to health by this famous remedy, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, after an operation has been advised that it will pay any woman who suffers from such ailments to consider trying it before submitting to such a trying ordeal.

COW TESTING ASSOCIATIONS

Members Given Aid in Selection of Animals, Skillful Breeding and Intelligent Feeding.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

Milk produced by 5,587 cows in 40 cow-testing associations, averaged in a year 247 pounds of butterfat per cow. This is considerably above the average production of all the dairy cows in the United States, which is estimated at 160 pounds of butterfat a year. A study of the records of the associations showed that the production of 160 pounds of butterfat a year gave an increase of $23 over cost of feed, while the average income over cost of feed from cows that produced 247 pounds was $47, or a little more than twice as much.

Though the dairymen who join cow-testing associations are thought to be more progressive than the average, dairy specialists in the United States department of agriculture say, the fine showing made by the cows in associations must be credited, in large measure, to association work.

Certainly the cow-testing associations return many dollars more than they cost. It is encouraging, they say, to know that the cow-testing association records show that the large-producing dairy cows are the least affected by the increased cost of feeds. Therefore, every dairymen should aim to keep all his good cows, or to place them where they will continue the economical production of human food. This economical production can be obtained not only through careful selection of dairy cattle and skillful feeding, but through intelligent breeding.

While the cow-testing association gives its members aid in each of these three essentials, it is particularly beneficial in promoting better breeding. This is very marked when the members also belong to a bull association. Not every dairy farmer can afford to own a good registered bull, but the bull association has made it possible for each of its members to own a share in one. A farmer for $50 may buy a scrub bull, but if five farmers will join a bull association and each invest $50 they may own a $250 pure-bred bull.

FEED GRAIN TO DAIRY COWS

Possible to Keep Average Animal in Milk Flow by Giving Good Silage and Alfalfa Hay.

(By A. C. BAER, Department of Dairying, Oklahoma A. and M. College, Stillwater.)

"Is it necessary to feed grain to dairy cows if we have silage and alfalfa hay?"

It is possible to keep the average dairy cow in milk flow with good silage and alfalfa hay. If the grain is left in the corn or kafir silage, these feeds will make a balanced ration for milk production. It is advisable, however, to feed some grain to cows giving 20 or more pounds of milk per day. One pound of a grain mixture for every five pounds of milk when fed with silage and alfalfa hay makes an ideal ration.

Grain Mixture No. 1.

2 parts grain chop.
2 parts bran.
1 part cottonseed meal.

Grain Mixture No. 2.

2 parts ground kafir.
2 parts ground oats.
1 part cottonseed meal.

GIVE DAIRY BARN ATTENTION

Good Ventilation and Drainage Should Be Provided—Good Water Supply Is Necessary.

The dairy barn should have plenty of ventilation and a well drained concrete floor. Keeping the barn clean necessitates a good supply of water with pressure. The stanchion method of tying the cows aids greatly in comfort and cleanliness. Many dairy barns nowadays have an automatic device for watering the cows. The usual method is by a water cup which is filled automatically, and which is placed between the cows. A lid on the cup keeps the water from getting dirty and the cows soon get used to raising it. This keeps on hand a large supply of clean water which remains at practically the same temperature.

A GREAT LOAN
LOOKS SMALLER

The Five Billions at $50 Apiece
Should Be Compared With
What the Kaiser Wanted.

Preparations are already making for the Fifth Liberty Loan, which the people of the United States will be asked to make toward the world war. It will come in the spring, probably sometime early in April.

The total amount will probably be somewhere near the size of the Fourth Loan. A five billion dollar total looks large, but it does not look as large as it did in 1917 to a people 100,000,000 strong who have learned to save and lend to the government.

When this Loan looks insignificant and puny, even if it is put on top of all the loans which preceded it, is when it is compared side by side with the billions Germany would have demanded of America if the Kaiser had won the war.

This is the way to compare the two possible endings of the war. Put one beside the other, the two chances of paying for the cost of the world war which the people of this country had before them one year ago.

The United States has come into victory and peace. One of the greatest forces it employed to win victory was the great fund which the people put into its hands to fight for civilization.

But the Government has not yet financed the needs of the last chapter of effort. Three months hence it will ask for a loan with which to accomplish this work. It will call in the Fifth Loan for money to pay the expenses of peace and reconstruction.

The men and women of the country who must furnish the funds for the Fifth Loan are doubly blessed. They have at the same time the liberty won by the war and the bonds of the Government taken in other loans. They know now that they can never be made to contribute to any Kaiser. And there are 100,000,000 of them in all.

What the VICTORIOUS FIFTH Loan proposes is that this 100,000,000 people shall lend the Government about $50 apiece.

This does not seem a large amount from each person. It is not a large sum to lend at substantial interest on unequalled security, for the final settlement in the war.

Each one knows that it is a Loan, that it is not payment to the Kaiser but a Loan for Liberty.

HAD MIGHTY WEAPON

Big Ship Is Sunk by "Phantom Torpedo."

British War Secret of Discharging Missiles From Airplanes Is Disclosed.

London—"Phantom torpedoes" from the clouds sank a Turkish ship carrying 3,000 troops, just before the end of hostilities. Only the armistice prevented other aerial "phantoms" from operating effectively against the German warships in the Kiel Canal and other German navy shelters.

These hydroplanes discharging torpedoes above the water have been the great secret of the British navy during the closing month of the war. Scientific officers of this branch of the navy agree that these mysterious planes are designed to accomplish from the air more effectively and more swiftly what the torpedoes from submarines can achieve.

An armored ship carrying twenty of these machines met the German surrendered fleet at sea ready for action in case the Germans should attempt some eleventh-hour trickery.

These amazing planes ascend from land or deck, climb thousands of feet for a sudden dive from the clouds at a speed of 150 miles an hour, straighten out fifty feet above the sea and discharge a torpedo direct at the enemy ship. Then they disappear into the clouds as suddenly as they appeared, and so swiftly that the enemy craft has no chance of training its guns or machine guns on it.

How the difficulty of discharging a torpedo in the air is overcome is a naval secret. It is known that serious accidents marked the experimental tests with these wonderful machines.

WEEKS OHIO JEWELRY SHOP

Pet Simian Bombards Salesmen and Customers With Choice Brica-Brac and Jewelry.

Cleveland, O.—A tiny simian with a broken chain about his neck suddenly appeared in Euclid avenue here when shopping crowds were thickest, and darting into a pretentious establishment patronized by the wealthy scattered the throngs by the very effective method of bombarding salesmen and customers alike with choice bits of cut glass, vases, and trays. Rings, brooches and necklaces were scattered broadcast.

A clothing store next door failed to hold the mysterious wanderer's attention long and it left, followed by a running posse of police and spectators. A street car carried it a few blocks and finally it was captured just as it was about to emulate the famous bull and enter a china store. Police have adopted it as a pet pending a claimant.

"Watch Kaiser Lovers," Says Chief of Police

Leavenworth, Kan.—John T. Glynn, chief of police here, had the following placard hung in his office during the war:

"Officers, keep a sharp lookout for German spies, Hun agents, I. W. W.'s, and all other kaiser lovers in America and give 'em hell. Signed, John T. Glynn, Chief of Police."

A group of Germans, many of them officials, demanded the chief be removed from office. He is still the chief.

Eyes Had to Be Blue.

Blue-eyed babies always claim a preponderance of admirers. The fact has just again been emphasized—this time at Hampstead, England. It was announced in the press that the town officials had a "bunny blue-eyed baby" for adoption, and straightway 350 would-be adopters wrote to secure it. Unfortunately it was found that the infant's eyes had been wrongly described. The eyes were not blue, after all, and when they heard of this some of the ladies withdrew their offers.

Prepared.

A train, running on a line which had achieved an unenviable notoriety for slowness and unpunctuality, after losing considerable time in a short journey, suddenly stopped in the midst of fields. "Guard!" shouted a jovial passenger, "may I get out and pick some flowers?" "Afraid you won't find many about here," said the conductor, good-humoredly. "Oh, there'll be heaps of time," replied the jovial passenger—"I've brought a packet of seeds."

Foundation of Brotherhood.

"The doctrine of the Brotherhood of Man is a beautiful dream, but it remains forever the baseless fabric of a dream, unless it is founded upon the deepest of all realities, the Fatherhood of God. To better our social conditions, we need close thoughts, careful study, a diligent application of the best methods, but at last without faith in the eternal foundations there can be no final adjustment of social difficulties, and all earthly wisdom is but as sounding brass and clanging cymbals."—Dr. Samuel Smith.

Peru's capital is the home of a national museum, one of the world's most interesting institutions of this nature. It shares with that of Cairo in displaying to modern peoples various incidents of life and activity of bygone races. Also the gallery of paintings of Peruvian history is particularly noteworthy. The remains of the first airplane to cross the Alps in which the Peruvian airman, Don Jorge Chavez, lost his life, is another interesting exhibit.

BATTLE SHAFT TO AMERICAN MEN

Monument Erected to First to Fall Fighting on the Soil of France.

FRENCH SHOW APPRECIATION

Replica of Monument Erected in Memory of Three Americans Who Fell at Bethelmont is Sent to Washington.

Washington.—The first three American soldiers to die in battle on French soil fell in the village of Bethelmont, about twelve miles east of Nancy. The population of this region decided to erect a monument commemorating their sacrifice, and a replica of this proposed monument was sent to President Wilson by Ambassador Sharp at Paris a few months ago at the request of those in charge of the project. Originally it was the intention to hold the ceremony of dedication in the very village of Bethelmont, where the three young heroes had given their lives for freedom, but the community was situated so near the firing line that the ceremony had to be held at Nancy. Ambassador Sharp has sent to the state department a graphic report on the subject. A large crowd of distinguished people were present at the dedication exercises.

M. Mirman, in his address before a huge assembly at Nancy, emphasized the fact that the three young heroes in whose honor the monument had been erected were not, indeed, the first Americans whose blood had tinged the battlefields of France. Young men from the United States, impatient to fight, had enrolled voluntarily in the French and English armies and already in 1916 their number exceeded 20,000.

Carried American Flag.

A very touching incident illustrates the patriotism of those Americans who had joined the French Foreign Legion before the United States entered the war. Not being able to fight openly under the Star-Spangled Banner they procured an American flag and decided that each of them, in turn, should carry it wrapped around his breast. In this way our flag was present in all those numerous combats in which the colors of the Foreign Legion participated. Twice it was pierced by bullets and stained with the blood of wounds. Once he who carried it fell, the American volunteers searched the field and found their dead comrade, took from his body the well-beloved colors, and armed with this emblem, they went forward to new exploits. When the United States took up the insulting defiance of Germany these American volunteers, already veterans, took their places in their National army and presented to France this flag which so proudly they had borne through numerous battles, and the French reverently deposited it at the Invalides.

A few days after the first Americans entered the trenches the Germans desired to test the worth of their new enemy. They directed an attack against the sector. Valiantly did the American soldiers support their baptismal fire.

Did Not Yield an Inch.

They did not yield one inch of their positions. The enemy who had penetrated for a moment into their trenches withdrew, leaving numerous dead. Three Americans were killed in the French lines, one pierced by a revolver shot, the other two stabbed with poniards. They were interred in a field below the hill on which are clustered the houses of the village of Bethelmont. It was decided that the names of these three first victims should be inscribed on stone, and although the project could not be given dimensions in keeping with the importance of the historic fact to be commemorated, the design is artistic and was drawn by Louis Majorelle. The cross and the thistle of Lorraine are entwined with the stars of America. The inscription on one side reads:

"LORRAINE TO THE UNITED STATES."

That on the other side: Here in Lorraine territory repose the three first American soldiers killed by the enemy on November 24, 1917. Corporal JAMES B. CRESHAM (of Evansville) Private THOMAS F. ENRIGHT (of Pittsburgh) Private MERLE D. HAY (of Chidden)

As worthy sons of their great and noble Nation they have fought for Justice, Liberty and Civilization against German Imperialism, the scourge of the human race.

THEY DIED ON THE BATTLE FIELD.

Thus it is that on the face of this monument is engraved in enduring letters the fact that in Lorraine territory repose the first three fallen American soldiers.

Strap Identifies Fox.

Worthington, Mass.—Under the thick growth of fur on the neck of a fox which Walter L. Tower shot the other day was a leather strap. It was identified by Charles A. Kilbourn as a strap which was on a young fox which he once had. The fox escaped from captivity 11 years ago.

TO USE WHALE MILK

Possible Solution Seen of Problem in Oregon.

Veterinary Says Milk Whale Can Be Domesticated and Pacific Ocean Would Be Farm.

Salem, Ore.—Whale milk may some day settle the question of milk supply for Oregon, according to State Veterinarian Lytle, who is entirely serious in the matter.

"The milk shortage," said Mr. Lytle, "may be swatted some day by domesticating the whale. With the whole Pacific ocean as a farm the domesticated whale would put the Oregon dairy business on a mammoth scale. Whales are mammals, each of which furnishes about a barrel of milk at a milking, and while at present they are a little too shy to be exactly classed as easy milkers, some day they will be domesticated."

Doctor Lytle suggests placing a sheep or two on every lawn in Oregon as a more immediate means of euring the milk and wool shortage.

"A good sheep of long or medium wool will give as much milk as a $75 milch goat, and it is the finest obtainable for infants. In addition, from $6 to $8 worth of wool can be obtained. If the lamb is raised, $10 can be obtained for it at three months, but, of course, if the milk is wanted the lamb must be sacrificed."

Sir Dyce Duckworth, one of the best known of England's prominent physicians, served on the naval medicine consulting board. COAL COMING FROM ALASKA

Railroads Planned for Development of Big Fields in the Far North.

Seattle, Wash.—Development of the coal resources in Alaska which have been locked up through federal laws has been greater in 1918 than in all previous years combined, according to advices received by the Seattle chamber of commerce, due to the construction of the government railway.

The first shipment of Alaska anthracite coal to reach tidewater was delivered at Cordova October 24. Another shipment of 100 tons is now en route to Seattle. The Alaska anthracite railway has been completed from tidewater on Bering river to the coal mines of the Alaska Petroleum and Coal company, 22 miles.

It is planned to extend this railroad eight miles from its present tidewater terminus to deep water on Okalee channel, Controller bay, where coal can be discharged direct from the cars to ocean carriers.

NEGRO IS FATHER OF FORTY

Had Eighteen Children by First Wife, None by Second and Twenty-Two by the Third.

St. Louis.—B. B. Banks, a negro, who lives in Benton, St. Louis county, says he is the father of 40 children. Banks asserts that all his "babies" are alive. He says he has six sons in France.

Banks was discovered in Division No. 5 of the circuit court, where he was a plaintiff, in an action against the Clover Leaf Casualty company, seeking judgment of $500 for alleged personal injuries suffered while employed at a steel plant.

"I've been married three times," Banks said. "By my first wife I had 18 children. She's dead. My second wife had no children. I divorced her. I had 22 children by my third wife."

Poverty on Increase.

Uniontown, Pa.—Despite the great prosperity in this country during the period of the war, with thousands of coal miners and others earning from $5 to $25 a day, the poorhouse shows a large increase in the number of inmates.

DELCO-LIGHT

The Complete electric light and power plant

Specified and used by the U.S. Army and Navy the Red Cross and the Y.M.C.A.

More than four thousand Delco-Light plants were delivered for war work. They were used to supply electric light in camps, storehouses, hospitals, Y. M. C. A. huts, airplane hangars, sub-chasers and other branches of the service.

In Red Cross hospitals at the front, Delco-Light operated life-saving X-ray apparatus.

Delco-Light was specified by the Government because it is dependable, efficient, simple to operate,—requires little attention, and because it is AIR-COOLED.

The result of Government tests and the satisfactory use of Delco-Light on over 60,000 farms are your assurance that Delco-Light will give you the same dependable service.

It betters living conditions,—increases farm efficiency, and soon pays for itself in time and labor saved.

NEW BONDS FOR PLOUGHSHARES

The Fifth Liberty Loan Will Finance Construction and Not Destruction—It Creates Assets.

Four times the people of the United States have made loans to the Government of billions that have gone for destruction.

The Fifth Liberty Loan will furnish billions for construction for the soldiers, for the nation, and for other nations.

The other Liberty Loans were of tremendous power in preserving this country and its people. They helped to save others and to preserve liberty upon the earth from its deadliest, most cruel and wicked menace in history. But all the time the work involved destruction far and wide.

With the victorious peace come obligations and responsibilities as great as they are imperative, of building up again.

Fortunately this great nation is most wonderfully equipped to go forward with this work.

Restoring the men of the armies to their homes and turning the guns and munitions of war into ploughshares, implements of peace in a thousand forms, is a task that is inspiring. It carries all the splendid promise of a great and expanding future.

Turning the great fleet of ships built by the nation to carry men and supplies to the battlefield into the channels of great international trade, is work that widens superbly the horizons of the nation.

Reconstructing and re-adjusting the enterprises of fighting to the pursuits of peace has in every step an uplift and an upbuilding.

But every one of these tasks before us is as expensive as it is urgently demanded.

The Government must finance every one, and to finance them, the Fifth Liberty Loan will be asked of the people in the Spring.

It is the endeavor in which the Liberty army of two years' service will enroll once more with gladness and confidence.

Their savings as loaned to the Government have won them real rewards, not alone in patriotism but in substantial interest.

To lend again now will round out and make perfect the existing peace with a reward no less high and fine.

Wedding Train Puller.

Viola had been to see Aunt Mary's beautiful church wedding and was much interested in the duties of the little train bearer. The next day Viola was seen marching in the yard with an old lace curtain draped from her head, and little Jim was holding it up. When she was asked what they were playing, Viola replied: "Oh, we is just getting married. I see the bride and he's the train puller."

Edible Alarm Clock.

It was late in the afternoon when the Scotch minister arrived at the farmhouse. The housewife suggested that perhaps he would like a cup of tea before he began the "exercises." "Na, na," said he, "I aye tak my tea better when my work is done. You can put the pan on and leave the door ajar, an' I'll draw to a close in the prayer when I hear the haam fizzlein'."

The Secret of Their Beauty

It is health, robust health, that is responsible for the Kentucky girl's good looks. If she gets sick, she proceeds to get well. Possessed of health, she knows that personal charm and attractiveness need not worry. They are hers. That is the secret.

The story of Mrs. Hattie Hamilton, 817 Myrtle Avenue, Latonia, Kentucky, is typical. She says: "I have never in all my life, until recently, weighed over 100 pounds. Finally, I began to take Peruna. My weight now is 120. While I didn't really need it, I have started on the third bottle. Peruna has certainly done me a great deal of good and I recommend it to my friends. Several are taking it. It is surprising the amount of dependence placed by women everywhere upon Dr. Hartman's World Famous Peruna. For forty-five years it has been a household remedy for coughs, colds, catarrh and all catarrhal inflammation whether of the respiratory system, stomach or other organ or part of the body. The record of Peruna for nearly a half century is a startling one. Thousands have discovered and testified to its marvelous merit. Peruna is sold everywhere. May be purchased in either liquid or tablet form. Your dealer has it. Ask for Dr. Hartman's well-known Peruna Tonic. Do not accept a substitute or 'something just as good.' Insist upon Peruna.

If you are sick and suffering from any cause whatever, write The Peruna Company, Dept. 75, Columbus, Ohio, for Dr. Hartman's Health Book. The book is free and may help you. Ask your dealer for a Peruna Almanac.

LATE WAR AREA
AN EERIE PLACE

Strange Quiet Now Rests Over Land Torn by Shot and Shell.

TRAVELER AGAIN IS WELCOME

Plain Vegetables and Certain Meats, Even Choice Wines, Again Are Plentiful—Friendly Lights Seen at Night.

Behind the Lines in France.—This land of recent battles is a queer land now. Over the shell-torn villages and blasted woods, the pitted fields and ruin of all that once was is a strange quiet. The winter sky is lacking in airplanes and great flocks of crows have taken their place.

A few villagers have crept back to see what remains of their homes and holdings, but probably the winter will have passed before reclamation and reconstruction are undertaken on a large scale.

Along the roads repaired and re-bridged for the allies' advance into German territory long cannon trains move slowly and always southward. They travel leisurely now, for the need of hurry is gone. They bring back the salvage of battlefields, all the things that go to make war, abandoned or captured.

Endless Trophies of War.

Truck load after truck load of rifles and shells, of water bottles and haversacks, cartridges, machine guns, bayonets and trench knives and pistols, mess kits, overcoats, caps, an endless catalogue of paraphernalia are brought in. The battle zone is still full of it all, in heaps and racks, waiting salvage.

Now and then come trains of airplane camions burdened with dismantled flying machines of every type and every nation, engine and fuselage and running gear on the truck and the great wings on its specially designed trailer. Some of them are unharmed, but many show bullet holes through the frail fabric or the ruins of a crash. A fair proportion of them bear the Maltese cross that marks them boche.

There are trains of captured enemy artillery, particularly of motor batteries, driven and manned by Frenchmen, and these are happy outfits. Often the guns are decorated with evergreens and always the French soldiers laugh and wave a greeting. As they creep through the villages the populace flocks out to view the cannon that for four years sent death and devastation to their land, and the children clamber on the carriages and out on the grim barrels.

But it is the troops on the way back that are most interesting, returning to rest areas or to their ports of embarkation for home. French or American, their behavior is the same. Always they greet everyone cheerily or boisterously and always the French officers salute with a smile when they meet an American car, while the men wave and shout: "La guerre est finie!" or a similar greeting. Even the children cry "Finis! Finis!" to the passing car.

Travelers Are Welcomed.

Strangest of all are the lights at night in the hamlets and villages, or shining friendly from the isolated farmhouse, in regions further back. For so long France seemed a deserted land to the traveler by night. Hour after hour the press correspondent has traveled at night without a glimmer to be seen in the countryside, and now from every hill and vale the cheery windows shine and the villages are ablaze. The papers devote columns to the illumination of Paris, but it is here in the remote part of France where war has been that lights at night seem most wonderful, even if they are but candle or little lamp. Where once camions or staff cars loomed lightless in the roads to the imminent threat of collision, and often its accomplishment, the brilliant headlights stab the night.

There in every village now the traveling stranger can obtain food, not in variety, perhaps, but enough and very hospitable. The deprecatory polite and necessary refusal to requests for refreshments that usually were received in little hamlets or single farms has given way to a cheerful offering of what there is, for the farmers know now that the specter of a winter of short rations has disappeared. The rationing of certain foodstuffs is still in effect. Bread tickets are necessary in public eating places, no matter how unpretentious; butter and milk are seldom to be had and cheese is scarce, but of plain vegetables and certain meats there is plenty, and the light red and white wines of the country are forthcoming when demanded.

At this season there is game in the small town markets, hares and rabbits, venison, red-legged partridges and the large French quail and wild boar. It is high, but not so high as it always is at home.

Common Law Wife Wins.

St. Louis.—Mrs. Catherine Clark, who testified she was the common-law wife of Walter L. Clark, Frisco railroad switchman who was knocked down an engine and killed at the Choteau avenue viaduct April 1, 1917, has just been given a verdict of $16,000 by a jury in circuit court. She sued for $20,000.

BANISH CATARRH

Breathe Hyamel for Two Minutes and Relieve Stuffed Up Head.

If you want to get relief from catarrh, cold in the head or from an irritating cough, the shortest time breathe Hyamel.

It should clean only your head in two minutes and allow you to breathe freely. Hyamel often ends a cold in one day. It relieves you of disgusting sniffles, hawking, sneezing and offensive breath in a week.

Hyamel is made from a soothing, healing, antiseptic, that comes from the eucalyptus forests of inland Australia where catarrh, asthma and consumption were never known to exist.

Hyamel is pleasant and easy to breathe. Just pour a few drops into the hard rubber inhaler, use as directed and relief is almost certain.

A complete Hyamel outfit, including inhaler and one bottle of Hyamel, costs but little at druggists everywhere and a druggist's Pharmacy. If you already own an inhaler you can get an extra bottle of Hyamel at druggists.

Sunshine and Happiness in place of Gloom and Irritability

"There's a Reason" for INSTANT POSTUM

The demands upon Industry are too great to permit us to ever go back to our wasteful pre-war habits: DON'T WASTE COAL.

UNITED STATES FUEL ADMINISTRATION

ASHES SIFTED MEANS COAL SAVED

No one would begrudge wasted coal if it fell later into the hands of users, as coal on the ash dumps of New York is gleaned by the children of the East Side. The trouble is that the five buckets full of coal which the average householder wastes each week by not sifting his ashes do no one any good. Sift your ashes, save coal, save money, and help stretch the scant supply of anthracite this winter.

HERE ARE TWO SIMPLE HOME-MADE ASH SIFTERS

Ash Sifter Hard to Beat as Money Saver; Easy to Build.

The illustration in the upper right represents a homemade ash sifter made from plain boards and one-half inch mesh cellar window wire. Its measurements are 30x27 inches, and it has an elevation of one foot.

In the center is another view of the same ash sifter. It shows the sifter placed against the ash pit of a heater, with a box in back of it to catch the reclaimed coal.

Ashes are drawn from the ash pit with hoe, as shown in illustration. As they are pulled over the mesh the ashes drop through the sifter and the recovered coal falls into the box. The purpose of this form of sifter is to alloy dust and reduce work.

In the lower illustration is a simple form of ash sifter which can be made with four boards, or a box sawed in half, a broomstick and a piece of one-half inch mesh cellar window wire. This style of sifter is efficient but scatters more dust than the other.

WEATHER STRIPPING WILL SAVE YOU COAL

Following are a few suggestions by the United States Fuel Administration on "weather stripping" of houses, to save coal:

It is best to put weather stripping on all doors and windows because, there is a heat loss through every one, no matter how tight they might be. By all means strip those which are loose, or which have large crevices.

All doors and windows which have a northern exposure should be carefully stripped. Windows thus exposed would be much better protected if double windows are provided, because there is a certain amount of heat loss through the glass.

A million and a half households in the Middle West, accustomed to the use of anthracite, are getting either none or only a partial supply of anthracite this winter. Make the most of the anthracite you are fortunate enough to have.

The best way of assuring yourself of a steady supply of coal is to make the most of the coal you have.

COALGRAMS.

- ★ Why try to heat all outdoors.
- ★ Turn off the heat when you open a window for the night. Save anthracite.
- ★ Clean out your furnace, range and flues. Save anthracite.
- ★ Seal is a better heat insulator than asbestos. Clean it out and save anthracite.

COAL PRODUCTION CUT.

The influenza epidemic cut anthracite coal production 1,000,000 tons, according to the estimates of the United States Fuel Administration. Another half million of tons was sliced from expected production when the miners joined with the rest of the country in celebrating the signing of the armistice.

These are the reasons that make it necessary for a person possessed of coal to make the most of it.

MAKE AN AIR-POCKET WITH WINDOW SHADE

IT KEEPS OUT THE COLD.

There has come to light the novel fact that a window shade will not only keep out the light, but will keep out the cold!

Unreasonable, you say?

Not at all.

A glass window, while it effectively keeps out the wind, allows considerable radiation of the heat from a room through the single thickness of the pane. In very cold countries double windows are the rule.

No matter how thin the window shade, if it is pulled down and held snugly against the casement, it forms an air pocket which insulates the warm room from the cold outside the same way as does the air space of the double window.

For that reason, in cold weather, pull your window shades down at night. If the curtains or hangings do not hold the shades close to the casement, pin the shades. It is not necessary to seal the shades tight against the casement, but merely to hold them close enough so that they do not blow too freely.
